

Avoid Pirated Movie Downloads

Contributed by GloriaBooth
Wednesday, 03 March 2010

One of the most basic human feelings is trying to profit from whatever you do, which is why there are always big discounts offered in stores to lure in potential customers. It is the same with movie downloads, you will be tempted to get it for free rather than pay and watch it.

by GloriaBooth

One of the most basic human feelings is trying to profit from whatever you do, which is why there are always big discounts offered in stores to lure in potential customers. It is the same with movie downloads, you will be tempted to get it for free rather than pay and watch it.

The reason for the overwhelming popularity of illegal movie downloads lies in the fact that people always prefer getting things for free rather than paying for it. Despite the possibilities of breaking laws and violating norms, illegal movie downloads outnumber legal ones by as much as 5 to 1.

In the United States alone, over six million households' downloaded movies from an illegal movie download website in the past 2 to 3 months. Unsurprisingly, most of the videos that were downloaded had adult content in them and they were usually sourced from a Peer to Peer (P2P) website.

There are a couple of ways that these legal movie download sites can charge for their services. One is a monthly fee or subscription that will be charged, allowing you an unlimited number of downloads per month while your subscription is active.

This type allows for those that will be regular users to download an unlimited number of movies for a set monthly price. This will allow them to get the maximum number of downloads at the lowest price possible per selection. The other is where you can pay for each individual movie that you download. You'll pay a little more per movie, so this method is best suited for the occasional users.

Some of the biggest benefits you'll realize are that all these legal movie downloads, from reputable sites, will have a much higher picture and sound quality. As well, the download speed will be much faster as compared to a file sharing type download.

However, the agencies that track these offenders will not catch just about anyone due to the complication of the entire process. Often times, they will track a person who is downloading thousands of movies and reselling them in the market, trying to make an example out of them and hopefully preventing people from doing the same thing at their homes.

Many movie studios are now improvising some sort of security in the discs so that the people who download them cannot play it back on their system. This security is not foolproof and many hackers always find a loophole with enough time. With newer technologies, it is not that hard to break security protocols either.

One of the minor downsides of using a legal movie download site is that there tend to be less of a selection of movies available to the end user. With fewer legal movie download sites around, as opposed to the illegal file sharing sites, your choices to find one that can accommodate your needs for price and terms of agreement will be limited as well. However, there are enough legal sites out there, with more popping up everyday that you're sure to find one within the price range that you are willing to pay.

The popularity of the illegal movie downloads will continue with time, and many people will succumb to it, rather than paying and procuring a legal version of the movie. As the movie studios continue devising new techniques to curb piracy, the pirates will also devise new methods to overcome these blocks and ensure that they continue doing what they are doing now.

A lot of the legal movie download sites now a days offer free trials. They allow you a certain number of downloads, or a time frame in which to try their services before any payment will be required.

About the Author:

If you're looking for legal movie download, you need to make sure that you find the right sort of resources. Dvd Movie Downloads Chances are, when you can't find these movies anywhere else you'll be able to find them online. In addition, there are fewer legal movie download sites, which means that you need to pick from what little you have.